66 reported dead in Argentine crash

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—An Argentine Airlines DC6 crashed and burned today in a field 160 miles south of here. Provincial police reported that 66 persons aboard were killed.

The crash occurred at 8 a.m., 45 minutes after the big, four-engine plane took off from here for Comodoro Rivadavia, Patagonian oil capital.

There was no immediate identification of the 60 passengers and six crewmen aboard. Several American oil companies are active in the Patagonian region.

Ezeiza Airport officials said the flight was one scheduled for Tuesday but delayed until today by the 24-hour general strike called by Argentine labor in a test of strength against the government.

The airliner plunged into flooded grasslands between the cities of Azul and Las Flores, at a point between the railroad junctions of Miramonte and Pardo, police said. The accident scene was 160 miles south of Buenos Aires.

Police said they doubted anyone could have survived the force of the impact and the subsequent fire

Rescue workers were having trouble reaching the site of the crash because of the floods.

Douglas excuses low assessment

LINCOLN (UPI) — Douglas County Assessor Joseph Stolinski today defended the county's valuation on household goods and told the State Board of Equalization he felt county taxpayers were paying their "fair and just" share of taxes.

Stolinski and other Douglas County officials had been called by the board to justify household goods valuations reported in the 1961 tax abstract submitted to Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson.

Douglas County, the most heavily populated in Nebraska, reported an actual value of $14,911,133 for household goods

This has brought complaints from some residents of Lancaster County, a county with far less population and fewer tax returns yet with a reported actual value of household goods of $13,158,130, nearly the same as Douglas.

Built-ins Not Counted

Stolinski explained one of the biggest reasons why there is so little difference between the total household goods valuations of the two counties is because built - in appliances are assessed as real estate in Douglas County.

Arthur Davis, Lancaster County assessor, told the board that built-in appliances, such as ovens, are assessed as personal property in Lancaster County.

Kennedy gets backing on Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee today unanimously approved a resolution strongly backing President Kennedy's stand on Berlin.

The resolution was proposed by Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N J. It may be rushed to the House floor for action this afternoon.

Gallagher said that fast approval would constitute "a full and adequate reply to the disparaging statements of Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov who recently intimated that the United States was bluffing on the Berlin issue."

"If the Russians believe their ambassador," Gallagher said, "they will be making the greatest mistake in their history and one of the most tragic for them."

The President's firm reply to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on Berlin won bipartisan support in Congress.

"The President's position is the only one our free nation can take," said Senate Republican Whip Thomas H. Kuchel "We are united There shall be no equivocation or vacillation by the West."

Rash of storms crosses Midwest

By United Press Inernaional

A rash of thunderstorms, some intense, rolled across the Midwest today on the edge of showers and cooler air blanketing much of the eastern half of the nation

Rain over the northern Plains eased the drought slightly in Minnesota, Wisconsin and the eastern Dakotas. But the grasshopper-plated western Dakotas were still in the throes of a lingering dry spell

Some of the rains lashing scattered sections of the nation produced heavy downpours, with St Louis reporting more than a half inch in about an hour. A similar rainfall hit Cape Hatteras, N C.

An exception to the cool air was New York City, where a heat wave continued. Another day of 90-degree temperatures was in prospect.

Forest and brush fires continued to plague the West.

Sometimes man is 'guinea pig'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Johns Hopkins University professor said today that some drug companies try out new drugs on humans because it costs too much to give them to animals first.

Dr. Louis Lasagna, head of the department of clinical pharmacology at Johns Hopkins, said it was shocking that experimental drugs are not regulated by the Food and Drug Administration.

"Some drug houses perform extensive animal tests before a drug is put into man," Lasagna said in a statement to the Senate Anti-trust subcommittee, "Others perform almost none.

"It is reprehensible for man to be the first experimental animal on which toxicity tests are run, simply because bypassing toxicity tests in laboratory animals saves time and money."

Evidently Lasagna was referring to the practice of distributing samples of new drugs to doctors before the drugs have been certified as safe for marketing by FDA.

In this manner, drug makers hope to gather evidence of the drugs' curing qualities. Witnesses for the American Medical Association have endorsed the practice.

Lasagna strongly endorsed proposals for government testing of new drugs to find out whether they work. This proposal is a key section of legislation by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., who wants to impose new controls on the drug houses in hopes of trimming "excessive" costs.

Steel upturn is still seen

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steelmen were still optimistic today about an August upturn in steel orders but are hedging somewhat an earlier prediction of a sharp rebound.

Indications now are that the expected surge of orders from the auto industry will not materialize as soon as had been expected. But nevertheless most producers look for output to be substantially ahead of July

DETROIT—Retail auto sales in the first third of July fell 16 per cent below the daily rate a month earlier This was the lowest pace since the similar period last February.

SPOTS AFFECT RADIO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Global radio communications have been crippled for several days by unusually severe sun spots.

U S. officials predicted Tuesday further disturbances in the next few days if a report from Russia concerning a record-sized solar flare is true.

Officials at the U.S. Bureau, of Standards, who check sun spots, said there was a large flare last Tuesday that began to interfere with communications two days later.
