'Versatile' Is The Word for Woody Allen

By PATRICIA E. DAVIS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Woody Allen is a show business rarity — he's a misfit that fits in

Woody, who recently appeared with singer Sylvia Syms at the Americana Hotel's Royal Box supperclub, is introduced to his audiences as "That playwright actor, comedian, sportsman and spoiler of women"

He actually is a nightclub comedian, movie star, television personality and Broadway playwright. But most of all, Woody says, he is a "compulsive writer"

Born and raised in Brooklyn, Woody began writing jokes at age 15 and sending them off to New York newspaper columnist who printed them and gave Woody a credit line with each

He was soon discovered by television and moved on to write video gags for Buddy Hackett, Pat Boone, Bob Hope, Herb Shriner and Sid Caesar At the age of 22 he was making $1 500 a week as a writer for The Garry Moore Show

Woody started out in a Greenwich Village club called the Duplex where he worked for a year before being invited to perform at the now defunct Blue Angel, an uptown club noted for discovering new talent, where he received rave notices from the critics. He was on his way.

ALLERGY TO FISH

Q. Would shots be effective in overcoming allergy to fish? Our 5-year-old daughter breaks out in hives every time she smells fish or when she is in a room in which fish has been cooked. The doctor advises against shots.

A. Most allergists would agree with your doctor Allergy to fish is one of the most violent types of hypersensitivity Desensitization by giving injections is not very successful or practical In such cases, preventive measures (avoidance of contact with fish) may be the only way to avoid trouble

ACCIDENT - PRONENESS

Q. Are some people "accident-prone"?

A. Various studies have shown that certain individuals have repeated accidents while others have none despite the fact that, by and large, all were exposed to the same risks Whether accident-proneness is a major or minor factor in accident rates is not known but it seems certain that accident repeaters do exist Better methods and tests are needed to find and evaluate the accident-prone" individual

CARDS-BRAVES GAME WILL BE COLORCAST NATIONALLY

The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals meet the hard-hitting Atlanta Braves in a "Major League Baseball" game to be colorcast nationally by the NBC Television Network Saturday, July 22, starting at approximately 1:15 p.m. CDT, Channel 3.

The buck Ends here . . . .

All of a sudden Iowa and No. 2 highway are in the major news.

A Fremont county, Iowa comprehensive plan runs a proposed Iowa 2 highway right smack dab into the Missouri river upstream from Nebraska City.

At the same time Iowa is spending nearly a half million dollars to resurface Iowa 2 from Nebraska City to the junction east of Waubonsie park.

The rebuilding job on Iowa 2 is a dandy as Mark Wurtele and I observed the other day.

For one thing the highway will probably lose its name as "kidney killer" once completed. The state is also adding six feet to the width for a 24-foot asphalt highway.

Job Superintendent Vern Cooper is proud of his 60-man crew which has snapped all records in tonnage of asphalt laid on roadbeds.

Mark pointed out the race track north of the first curve and the track shop on the other side of the highway. Sports fans are hopeful the track will be open this year despite a setback with flood waters.

Interstate 29 that is slowly moving south of Council Bluffs and north of St. Joseph, Mo., is still a long ways from the proposed cloverleaf interchange east of the Percival-Iowa 2 junction.

We followed the St. Joseph interstate north a few days ago but were disappointed to find the super highway ends south of Savannah, Missouri.

We dunked a super-dooper-pooper type of bait into a lake southeast of Kansas City and in a short time filled the deep freeze with Bluegill.

E.A. Ford won't believe this, but we caught Bluegill at the rate of one every three minutes for six hours. . . . and how's that for a fish story.

The bait is something new and the little insects cost two cents apiece.

Optimists asked Postmaster Howard Baltensperger the other day why Nebraska City does not have a post office. The postmaster said that's pretty much up to public opinion.

He did say that the present building is adequate for the present mail volume and system. The big item, of course, is location and the present site seems to be the best.

Good luck to Junior Bruns, the new director of the Youth Center. . . . I sure hope he likes loud music. . . .We'll miss the eloquent tongued Winston Rashleigh and his fine family when they move to Fremont in a few weeks. . . .Lester Hohnroth has a 25-acre lake under construction on his farm.
