Bandleader, 69, Spurns the Old Rocking Chair

By MICHAEL SHANNON

DALLAS (UPI) — The modern music lover who laments the passing of the big bands has not talked to Joe Reichman lately Like Mark Twain, Reichman said "The rumors of my death have been greatly exaggerated"

Reichman, 69, has led a dance band for more than 50 years He said recently the group still has engagements three or four nights a week, "all we can handle"

"There will always be a demand for my type of band at parties and dances," Reichman says. "People seem to enjoy what we play for them"

In 1914, when Joe was 16 years old, he played his first professional appearance at a college dance 'I probably wouldn't have gotten that job," he said "except it was for the college I was going to" Reichman spent six years at the school studying law, but never took a bar examination "I was making more money in the night clubs," he explained

The early Reichman bands included several musicians who went on to become stars themselves, including trumpeter Bix Beiderbecke and clarinetist Pee Wee Russell Reichman is still the lead pianist for the band "The day of the baton leader passed long ago" he said "The leader of today must be an instrumentalist"

The Reichman sound is achieved by the use of two pianos, coupled with four saxophones, four brass instruments, and a rhythm section

"We play natural tempos so people can dance We don't try to imitate the Tijuana Brass or any other group Even though the songs we play may be new they still have the Reichman sound We're not ashamed of playing dance music for people who want to dance You won't hear any four minute drum solos in a Reichman arrangement'

The arrangements range anywhere from "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" to the Beatles' "Norwegian Wood" Reichman explains he tries to keep arrangements of all the good new songs "If someone asks for a piece I don't have in the book, I'm mortified'

Of modern music Reichman has a lot of kind words, and a few not so kind "I think its wonderful that so many youngsters are playing instruments now I don't mind their music at all if it is not too loud and noisy If it's done well, it can be quite musical After all you can't argue with success'

Joe's own favorite among modern groups is the Beatles "There has been and is only one such group as the Beatles Together, they have written some very beautiful things One of the band's favorites is 'Yesterday,' I believe their long hair is just a gimmick"

However, Reichman said "We get out as quickly as we can," when a rock 'n' roll group follows his band at a party "I can't stand the noise," he said

Sometimes even "good" modern music irks him "I go to night clubs and I hear piano, bass, drums, piano, bass, drums Maybe an occasional horn man You ask me if the big bands are coming back I only wish they would

"Still, we don't live on yesterday's date Tonight's the night. And when the ones who are 20 now are 35, I'll be around, playing music for them to dance to"

FACIAL BLOTCHES AND THE PILL

Q. I have been taking "the pill" for about two years and have developed brownish blotches on my face and neck. If I stop the pill will the blotches go away?

A. Blotchy discoloration similar to that which you describe may occur during pregnancy, and tends to persist So, apparently, do blotches arising during oral contraceptive administration, even after stopping "the pill" Discuss the condition with your doctor

COOKING UTENSILS

Q. Is it safe to cook food in copper utensils?

A. Copper cooking vessels are safe to use in that they do not impart harmful quantities of copper to food However, copper reacts with certain food elements and for this reason copper vessels are seldom used in the preparation of food

NEW YORK (UPI)—Glenn Miller was a legend even in his own time because of the innovations he brought to the big bands which were heard around the land

Miller was killed during World War II on a mysterious mission but his music continues to live a quarter of a century after his death

Fortunately so much of the Glenn Miller band's music was put on tape in those days that it was easy to reproduce enough to fill three giant memorial albums Unfortunately, all of this music was recorded monophonically Advances in the science of sound have made it possible however, to transfer monophonic sound into stereo

This has been done on a new" album called 'The Chesterfield Broadcasts Vol 1" by Glenn Miller and His Orchestra (RCA Victor LSP-3873(e))

Too Much

ALBACETE, Spain (UPI) — When Miguel Soriano Caballero learned he had won a million pesetas ($16,666) in the football pools, he locked himself in his room and refused to meet, talk with or even listen to anybody

Doctors said the 45-year-old bachelor suffered a severe case of shock when he heard the good news

The buck Ends here . . . .

By Ivan D. E. Beaumont

Remember Pearl Harbor!

Who could forget those words. The survivors of the Jap sneak attack will meet in Omaha Saturday to reminisce about that infamous morning in the Hawaiian Islands.

Bill Golden, one of those who walked away from the hell of that day, is the first president of the Nebraska Chapter of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association.

By the time the last gun had been fired ending WWII, 291,557 troops were killed.

A check of the history book shows that 4,435 were killed in the Revolutionary War, 2,260 in the War of 1812; 1,733 in the Mexican War; 214,938 in the Civil War; 385 in the Spanish American War; 53,402 in WWI and 33,629 in the Korean War.

And I read the other day that 15,000 have died in the Vietnam War.

And even with that shocking thought, people forget.

Ask your friend if he ever heard of Ernie Pyle. He was quite famous during WWII.

I had just poured another cup of coffee and was getting ready for the big climax of Run For Your Life, when they flashed "Continued Next Week" on the screen.

At that moment I had a word for the producer.

But, a week later I made it a point to see the second half.

It's time to revolt —

You know those tags on furniture and cushions which say, "Do Not Remove This Tag Under Penalty of Law?"

Did you ever get the yen to walk into a furniture store and rip off all those tags?

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

Or how about the fella sitting behind you at a movie and coughs on the back of your neck? Belt 'im!

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

How about the waiter who slops your coffee in the saucer and when you pick it up, coffee dribbles off on your suit?

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

Are you the person who always gets seated behind a Rosie wearing the biggest hat ever made?

\+ \+ \+ \+ \+

What do you do with the guy who never heard you the first time. He sez, "Did you know about so and so?"

You say, "no."

He sez, "You don't know?"
