

SOME SUNDAY in October, 1972, Kansas City fans may be treated to a "real" doubleheader. The new twin-stadium complex, pictured above, will be completed by then and—who knows?—maybe the baseball Royals and football Chiefs will be playing simultaneously. Baseball stadium, at left, will seat 42,500; football stadium, at right, 75,000. Complex will occupy 370 acres and cost $28,800,000.

The buck Ends here . . . .

By Ivan D.E. Beaumont

The population projections offered the other night at the Planning commission meeting ought to be an eye opener for most people.

Although many of us would like to see some sort of a population explosion that few towns ever have, (like the Bellevue "bedrooms") we settle for a slow and steady growth.

Of all the reports there was one that caused alarm.

The study showed that Nebraska City is losing its people between the ages of 20 to 34.

The principal reason: Nebraska City does not have a college or trade school.

Why not?

There are plans now under way to build a trade school at Peru State. I don't agree with my friends who say that is the best location.

Fortunately, the Board of Education here hired a superintendent and high school principal who are believers that vocational education are the routes that must be filled for young people today.

Let's help them.

Let's form some sort of a local committee and give Jim Withee and Carl Fielder the support they need to get a program off the ground.

We've talked with teachers in the Nebraska City school system who agree wholeheartedly that vocational training is a must.

The Rev Vincent Kelly, former superintendent at Nebraska City Lourdes, would have liked to stay in Nebraska City to help with the development of a school for the high school graduates. We have discussed that on several occasions.

Now, I ask you — why not?

The architects who designed Senior High illustrated the potential of adding onto Senior High and going west onto the ground already owned by you, the taxpayers.

Mebbe that's not the best location. Who gives a hoot! But Nebraska City IS the best location.

Someone said that Peru State is the best site because it is already an educational center.

Phooey!

Tell the Beatrice Chamber of Commerce that; it is working on its own to build a trade school in Beatrice.

If the kids at Peru State had their choice, they'd move the college, lot, stock and barrel (as Henry Schemmel would say) to Nebraska City, Dave Davison editor of the college newspaper, said.

Bill Carroll Home Sales, the company which sold the new mobile-permanent type home to the Jim Chaneys telephoned the other day to say he liked the feature story we printed on the Chaney home so well that he needed 2,000 reprints for use in his advertising campaign.

We liked it, too. Mrs F.L. Duffey, our society editor, took the pictures and wrote the story for the full page layout.

Ralph Nader's proposal to eliminate smoking on buses has a lot of merit. I haven't ridden on a commercial bus for some time, but as a pipe smoker, I confess, cigaret and cigar smoke is uncomfortable is close quarters.

It's pretty tough for me to say that because I used to be an expert on L.S.M.F.T., the filter tips and Pall Mall (I still don't see how they pronounce that Pell Melle).

Sid Metcalf said he will screen "Battle of Britain" at the Pioneer Theater in Nebraska City. The film is now enjoying much success in larger towns.

Its a story of German air war during WWII and I think it was filmed in Spain. One of the interesting sidelights of making the movie was obtaining WWII vintage bombers.

It seems that Texas was one of the most fruitful locations, but along with the okay to use their planes, the Texans insisted on piloting them. . .and they did.

Taxpayers object to teacher hikes

SYRACUSE — (Journal-Democrat) — Thirty taxpayers appeared before the Board of Education to protest an increase in teacher salaries.

The delegation asked the board to hold the line and cut costs wherever possible.

The teacher association requested a $600 increase in base pay to $6,500 plus other benefits for a total of approximately $100,000.

Morrissey plans golf pro shop

SYRACUSE — (Journal-Democrat) — The Board of Adjustment scheduled a hearing for February 19 at 7 p.m., on an application of Bob Morrissey to change zoning so he can put a golf pro shop in his former home on the extension of Ninth Street.

The residence is near the ninth green of the Syracuse golf course.

Morrissey said he plans a shop with snacks and possibly a bar. It will not have restaurant facilities.

COOK

Mrs George Fisher

Miss Diane Schacht, daughter of Mr and Mrs Marvin Schacht, Cook, has been honored by receiving recognition on the Chancellors List at Tarkio college, Mo. Miss Schacht, a senior, received a grade point average of 3.700 out of a possible 4000. The Chancellor's List is composed of the names of students who have a grade point average of 3.5 or higher with three courses for a term.

David Seeba has returned to Kearney State college where he attends school after spending several days with his parents, Mr and Mrs Delmar Seeba. He was recuperating from an auto accident. David and three other boys had attended a basketball game at Hastings and en route home an accident with another car, caused the four boys to be taken to a hospital. David suffered a concussion and leg injury.

Three men are fined in court

Three men were fined in police court Saturday by Police Judge Richard J Obbink. One case was continued and a bond of $125 was forfeited.

The proceedings were witnessed by Greg Scheele, son of Mr and Mrs Don Scheele. Greg, a member of Troop 343 sponsored by the First Baptist church, is working on his safety merit badge.

Larry Hartman, 20, 1616 Third avenue, was fined $15 for speeding 40 miles per hour in a 25 mile per hour zone. Court costs were $4 for a total of $19.

Robert L Connell, 21, Council Bluffs, Iowa, was fined $10 for speeding. Court costs were $4.

Harold Anderson, 18, 817 South Third street, was fined $10 on each of two counts — disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct. Court costs were $5 for a total of $25.

The case of the State vs John Sharp, Park Road Acres, speeding, was continued for one week at the request of the defendant.

A bond of $125 was forfeited. Ralph H Blasor, Grand Hotel, did not appear. He had been charged with intoxication, disturbing the peace, disorderly conduct and destruction of personal property.

Manson's phone privilege cut

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Cult leader Charles Manson, the alleged mastermind of the seven Sharon Tate-LaBianca murders, has had his telephone privileges in jail suspended by the Sheriff's Department because he used it to call the Sheriff's Department because he used it to call reporters and give out statements.

Manson had been given full proper privileges, including the use of the county jail law library, mail privileges and the use of a pay telephone because he is acting as his own attorney in the case.

However, a sheriff's spokesman said Friday, the phone privilege was only to assist Manson in preparing his defense and his calls to reporters and others were abuses of the privilege.

"Therefore," the spokesman said, "his privileges are to be suspended until they are reinstated by the court." He added that the suspension affected only Manson's telephone privilege.

A Los Angeles radio station (KHJ) disclosed Friday that it had interviewed Manson twice on Feb. 5, by telephone and recorded a total of 30 minutes of conversation.

Valentine gift makes her 'bawl'

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Sharon Newby got a valentine from her husband, Larry, and "just stood there and bawled."

Larry Newby is an Army sergeant stationed at Da Nang, Vietnam.

He asked his mother, Mrs. Christina Newby to arrange a very special valentine for Sharon. OBI Outdoor Advertising Co. donated the billboard and the elder Mrs. Newby had Larry's valentine emblazoned on it.

So when Sharon's mother-in-law took her out to lunch Friday the young wife saw the billboard with Larry's message:

"Sharon, I miss you on this Valentine's Day. Sending all my love from Da Nang. Only 31 days to go. Your loving husband, Larry."

Larry's mother said Sharon "just stood there and bawled."

Black Miss is first to win

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Miss Linda Smythe, 20, was crowned Friday as the first black woman ever to be selected as a National Cherry Blossom princess.

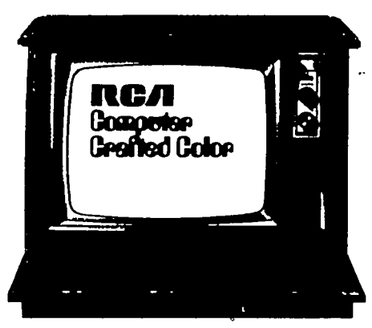

Seven judges chose Miss Smythe from a field of 16 finalists, including 14 blacks, to represent the District of Columbia.
