Water the lawn morning and night, feed it, bug it, manicure it by hand, and the gas company will come along and dig it all up for a new line to the house.

County Clerk Jerry Schmitz and his office staff, Deputy Darlene Miller and Mrs Marcina Cody, did a commendable job compiling the election results Tuesday night.

Jerry and his crew were on duty at 8 p.m., when the polls closed and the clerk locked his office door at 3:20 a.m., the next day.

Compiling election results is always done in one, big rush. Everyone wants to know how the candidates did in the vote-getting and they want to know as soon after 8 o'clock as possible.

Sometimes there isn't time to give running totals because when the reports start coming in they all seem to come at the same time. In this primary, the clerk and his staff worked non-stop with pencils for nearly two hours to receive and total results.

There's a new election law in effect which says that election results in which a time zone is involved, cannot be reported until 9 p.m. As such, the results of state offices and U.S. Senate were secret until the legal reporting time.

Company B guardsmen who held their reunion Saturday in Nebraska City, missed their former commander, Colonel Jay "Duckey" Holmes, San Antonio, Texas.

The colonel and his wife have for several years attended the Kentucky Derby and driven to Nebraska City for the reunion before returning to their home. The couple arrived in Nebraska City last week, but was unable to stay over for the reunion.

The colonel has a box seat at the Derby and has had faithful attendance at the race. The horses haven't been so faithful, he confides.

Ray Price, Julian, handled the arrangements this year at Memorial Building.

Company B guardsmen bivouacked on the courthouse grounds, marched down Central avenue and went to war during WWI. They made a prominent name for themselves, a tradition held to firmly since the Otoe Rifles, according to General Lyle Welch, Milford, adjutant general of the Nebraska National Guard. The general can cite the accomplishments of the Nebraska City guardsmen from memory.

Volunteer firemen here say they need more space for fire, police and rescue equipment. An interesting curb check is a drive past City hall some day to see the red painted vehicles parked outside.

Firemen have added two more units in the past year and rescue squadsmen now have three units . . . and there isn't enough space for the equipment inside the present building they say.

With all the talk about "tight money" and higher interest rates, don't you wonder how the state can come up with $12 million in tax funds to build a new office building. . . . A parent who has children at Northside school said the other day the school board's plans for a hard-surfaced playground may be closer than we think. . . . Wonder what ever happened to the PTA campaign to get more sidewalks in Nebraska City. . . . If you haven't attended one of the track meets at Hayward park you should. The attendance has been good and the Nebraska City Pioneers and Lourdes boys are burning up the asphalt.

Baccalaureate for the Class of 1970 will be held May 24 at Hayward park and three nights later commencement will be held at the field. Wonder if the clergy or the school board will win out on which night it rains.

The Optimist club will hold its Tuesday luncheon meetings at St Mary's hospital lunch room beginning May 26, moving from Mary Ulbrick and her fried chicken, creamed cabbage and creamed corn.

Well fellas, if Rose Gilson stuffs the gang at St Mary's lunch room, at least you will be close to a hospital bed.

Rose managed the school hot lunch program for many years in the old high school where Safeway is now located. Those were the years when the late Edgar Lightbody, school superintendent and myself, used to slip downstairs to the aroma of Rose's cinnamon rolls, hot buns and coffee.

Jim Brockhaus, Senior High athletic director, said this happened at K-State in Manhattan, Kansas, where Coach Vince Gibson has made the purple colors a proud mark.

It seems the football interest at K-State has got to the point where consideration is being given to the astro-turf, a type of commercial sodding for football fields.

The fiery Coach Gibson said there was no question about the size, thickness or cost of the turf. The only question, he said, "is whether it will be purple or green."

1040 U.S. Individual ... Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) Will I get a reminder notice on my June estimated tax payment?

A) Yes, the IRS will send reminder notices on the second installment due June 15, to all those who received estimated income tax forms earlier this year. Anyone receiving a notice who is not required to make a payment should ignore it.

Use voucher number 2 to make the June payment. This voucher identifies the payment since it carries the taxpayer's name, address and Social Security number. For your convenience, envelopes addressed to the service center were provided in the 1040-ES package.

Q) Where should I write about a delayed refund?

A) If it has been ten weeks since you sent in your return and you have received no word about it, then write the IRS service center where you sent your return. IRS will need to know about when your return was mailed, your Social Security number, name and present address.

Q) I'm a teacher and plan to take some courses this summer. How can I find out whether these costs will be deductible?

A) Send a post card to your IRS district director and ask for a copy of Publication 508, "Tax Information on Educational Expenses." This booklet is free.

Generally, educational expenses are deductible if they are expressly required by your employer or if they are necessary to maintain or improve your skills in your present position. No deduction can be taken for courses needed to meet the minimum standards of employment or to obtain a new job.

Q) How much can someone earn and still be claimed as a dependent?

A) For 1970, a person must have gross income of less than $625 to meet the income test for dependents. The income level had been less than $600, but was changed by the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

The 1969 law raises the income test in steps just as the amount that may be claimed for a dependent is raised. For example, a taxpayer is entitled to a $625 allowance for each exemption on 1970 returns and the gross income test for dependents is less than $625. For 1971, a taxpayer is allowed $650 for each exemption, while the gross income test rises to less than $650.

Note that the income test does not apply to children of the taxpayer, if they are under 19 or are full-time students at least five months during the tax year.

Q) Can I deduct any of the closing costs I paid when I bought my house?

A) State and local taxes on real property and interest payments are deductible if you itemize. Keep a record of your closing costs so you have the information available when you file your return next year.

Many of the closing costs associated with the purchase of a home are not deductible since these are considered by law to be either personal or capital expenses. Your lawyer's fees, insurance on the home, title search and similar expenses are not deductible.

$500 fine levied in vehicle homicide

BEATRICE (UPI) — Dale D. Jurgens, 22, of Pickrell, was fined $500 and given 60 days in the Gage County Jail Friday by Acting Gage County Judge Phil Everson of Wymore.

Jurgens had been charged with motor vehicle homicide after a two-vehicle collision the day after Christmas at a county road intersection 9 miles northwest of here.

Kenneth Daubendiek, 31, of Pickrell, was pronounced dead on arrival at a Beatrice hospital after the accident.

Judge Everson set an appeal bond of $800 which was posted, and notice of the appeal to the district court was filed.

Jurgens was allegedly the driver of a pickup truck which struck the Daubendiek auto.

During the last legislative session, motor vehicle homicide in certain cases was changed from a felony to a misdemeanor, resulting in the fine and jail sentence in the Jurgens' case.

A thought for the day: Scottish assayist Thomas Carlyle said "Adversity is sometimes hard upon a man, but for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a hundred who will stand adversity."
