Camp Catron will bloom!

What's going to happen to Brownie and Girl Scout attendance at Nebraska City's Camp Catron northwest of town now that the established camp program has been dissolved?

"More girls will use it than before," Mrs Russell Palmtag, Girl Scout cookie chairman said

Under the established camping program, up to 200 girls spent two weeks each at Camp Catron They were part of the 6,000 girls in the Homestead Council

Under the new troop camping program to be instituted this summer, Mrs Palmtag said the number could be five to six times greater She said instead of providing the dining facilities and staff for the two week camps, any of the troops in the Council can use the facilities under the supervision of their own leaders (and prepare their own meals) for overnights, weekends or a week at a time

Mrs Palmtag said many people got the wrong idea from the stories in the paper about the established camp "Camp Catron will bloom this summer," she said

There will be no dining facilities under the program, but waterfront directors will be provided for the use of the swimming pool.

She said Nebraska City's girls have always used the facilities for day camps Now, that can be expanded to offer the facilities to even more girls

Homestead Council officials are hopeful that winter facilities can be added (that includes water and toilet facilities) to make the camp available for those camping programs

Mrs Palmtag said the new camping program will be conducted similar to the operation of the Boy Scout camp at Humboldt — more youngsters for less cost

The Daily Nebraskan

The News-Press has taken on an additional printing job as a sub-contractor that has required some early work hours

Arbor Printing company of Lincoln was awarded the contract to print the Daily Nebraskan, the daily newspaper for the University and we are doing the printing part of that job on our Goss Community offset press

Zean Carney, the owner of Arbor Printing, has to deliver the 14,000 copies of the daily newspaper at the University by mid-morning

And that means Max Moyer, who heads our job printing department; Chuck Johnson, the Goss pressman and his assistant, "J R " Snodgrass have early work hours

The fellows have been coming to work at 6 a m , or shortly afterward to get the job on the road We're pretty pleased that Max's sub-contract bid on the job was accepted and we've been hustling around in the early morning hours

Those early morning work hours are hard on the rest of us, too

I've been waking up at 4 30 a m , stomping around the house and disturbing the sleep of the rest of the family. It wasn't so bad Friday because there was snow to scoop

I was easily encouraged to return to the house Friday morning when I saw Millie in the kitchen preparing my bacon and eggs, toast and yeah -- strawberry preserves!

Zean Carney is an ambitious young man operating a successful printing shop Zean and his wife, the former Marilyn McCoy, are graduates of Nebraska Wesleyan University

Zean worked for the Lincoln Journal in the classified ad department while in college and later was news editor for Henry Mead at the Seward Independent

"J R " is one of Robert Rathe's distributive education students His real name is Dave, but we had to coin a new name for him

We had Dave Davison and Junior Hughes working here when Dave Snodgrass started work and it was too confusing to call for "Dave" or "Junior" and not know who was who So, he was tagged with "J R "

Skelly Wier will leave a bit of himself with the American Legion post in Nebraska City when his lease expires September 30.

He has been the Legion's steak chef for many years and has served those juicy steaks to thousands of Legion club diners

We're not sure how long he's been the chef Someone said it's been about 16 years, about the time Ray Duncan was the post commander

Skelly worked at the post when meals were served cafeteria style and then Marie Wieckhorst was among the operators of the dining hall

Later Skelly returned to manage the dining facilities and has been there since "He's worked there 15 or 16 years the second time," his wife recalled

Here's a note from Mrs Chester Ganzel about the peace symbol

Remember? That's the design we printed here a couple weeks ago and labeled it as anti-Christ, according to the Oklahoma Mason publication Since then, the clergy has spoken

Mrs Ganzel writes

"My son-in-law, the Rev William Tomlinson (his wife is the former Eileen Ganzel) is serving the United Methodist churches of Alta and Truesdale, Ia

"The clipping is from his recently monthly church newsletter "

The peace symbol was created by the Direct Action Committee against Nuclear War in London in 1958 It is a symbol of nuclear disarmament It combines the semaphore signals for the letter N (flags at 45 degree angle) and D (flags held vertically) The letters stand for "nuclear disarmament" The circle represents the world.

Peace marchers in England first carried the symbol on their banners. At that time nuclear testing in the atmosphere was the big issue Since then the symbol has come to stand for peace in general

For an evening of tough language and an interesting and bloody war story, go see "Patton" playing at the Pioneer in Nebraska City.

General George Patton's tank command won many victories during WWII And some of the battles and events leading up to the end of the war are told in the story

You may not like the swearing of the general But you'll have to admit he was a "hell of a commander "

Two of the showings were sponsored by the VFW post in Nebraska City And we were impressed when the house lights went on and a color guard walked down the aisle to the stage

Members of the color guard who placed flags on the stage were Bill Knickman and Herman Varenhorst, ex-Army GI's, Dave Nelson, an ex-sailor and Bill Rivett, an ex-Marine, all members of the VFW post

Religious rioting is near civil war

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Religious rioting threatened to erupt into civil war in Northern Ireland today after a British soldier and two Irishmen were killed in a shootout between British troops and members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army Another civilian blew himself up when a bomb he was about to throw exploded.

The three hours of fighting began in Belfast's Roman Catholic district shortly after midnight and was one of the worst outbreaks in two years of strife between the Catholic minority and Protestants in the British province The IRA is trying to drive the British from the six northern counties and bring them under the predominantly Catholic Irish Republic.

Six civiljans were wounded when a bomb went off in the Stankill Road area, a Protestant district, and terrorists blew up a major water main in Belfast's suburbs

Police said 37 persons were arrested, 11 juveniles.

The latest trouble started four nights earlier when British soldiers searched for hidden arms in Catholic districts Increasingly bitter clashes between civilians and soldiers have occurred each night since

Thousands of troops remained on alert in the province at dawn The troops appeared shocked by the death of their first comrade killed in action since the army came to Belfast to put down rioting in August 1969

The soldier was on a foot patrol that came under machine-gun fire in the Ardoyne district Four other soldiers were wounded, two seriously British officers said both the civilians who were shot dead were snipers picked off by British marksmen

A witness described a street in Ardoyne as "like a valley of lead—bullets were dipping and spraying from one side to the other "

Observers said mobs ranged in size from a few dozen to a hundred or more Fire and acid bombs, bricks and dynamite sticks were hurled at police and troops by rioters racing from street to street through connecting aleyways

About 1,000 soldiers were in Belfast, some patrolling Protestant districts that remained relatively Observers said mobs ranged in size from a few dozen to a hundred or more Fire and acid bombs, bricks and dynamite sticks were hurled at police antroops by rioters racing from street to street through connecting alleyways

About 1,000 soldiers were in Belfast, some patrolling Protestant districts that remained relatively quiet More than 6,000 British troops in the province were bolstered this week by 720 men in an infantry battalion and an armored car squadron

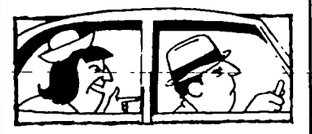

Several soldiers were injured in Londonderry, where they set up barbed-wire barricades to seal off the Catholic Bogside area A gang of youths smashed their way into a post office compound, stoned the central police station and fled

SAN RAFAEL, Calif (AP) — Black militant Angela Davis has filed for dismissal of murder, kidnap and conspiracy charges against her, and the case will be heard next month by a judge from a county that has no Negro population.

In 200 pages of legal motions filed Friday, Miss Davis, a 27-year-old avowed Communist and a former UCLA professor, asserted that the grand jury that indicted her received no evidence she committed any crime

The charges stemmed from a shootout between police and three convicts and an accomplice trying to flee a courtroom Four persons were killed Miss Davis is accused of plotting an attempt to free the prisoners and take hostages

Miss Davis' appeal will be heard March 9 by John P McMurray, 62, who retired Jan 4 from the Superior Court bench in Inyo County The county, which includes Death Valley, is on the eastern slopes of the Sierra and has about 11,600 residents—none black

McMurray was appointed Friday to hear the case by Chief Justice Donald Wright of the California Supreme Court

All five Marin County Superior Court judges have disqualified themselves because of their friendship with Judge Harold J Haley, slain in the shootout last Aug. 7.

Miss Davis asked that she be allowed to be her own cocouncel, that she be released on bail and that the grand jury indictment be dismissed

She was indicted under a state law which holds an accomplice equally guilty as the person who commits a crime

Couple murdered at Florida marina

DANIA, Fla. (AP) — A dark-complexioned man was sought today by police in the slaying of a New York City cosmetics firm executive and his bride aboard their blood-spattered luxury houseboat

Officers who answered a call at the plush Cozy Cove Marina in this resort city six miles south of Fort Lauderdale Friday found the nude bodies of 51-year-old George W Beck and his pretty, 31-year-old bride of two months, Ina Jo, sprawled on a convertible bed in the salon of the 57-foot, $60,000 catamaran Bachaven

Both had been stabbed several times, and Beck had been clubbed over the head with a heavy object, officers said

Beck, a Revlon Corp , vice president, and his blonde wife were married Christmas Day .

BILL DEADLINE IS MONDAY

Reapportion issue coming

Capitol Comment
—A Weekly Column—
By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

LINCOLN (AP)—One of the sleeping giants of the current Nebraska legislative session — the reapportionment issue — is about to stir its bones

Regarded in advance as one of the major problems with which lawmakers will wrestle in 1971, the redistricting matter has lay in repose during the session's first five weeks, largely because of delay in getting the 1970 census figures on which the remapping efforts will be based

Only one bill on the subject has been introduced, a measure by Sen Elmer Wallwey of Emerson proposing new district lines for the six State Supreme Court districts

The dearth of redistrictmg bills is expected to end Monday when Omaha Sen George Syas drops into the hopper bills to reapportion the legislature, Supreme Court, State Board of Education, University of Nebraska Board of Regents and State Railway Commission

Syas say they will be "skeleton" bills, not designed actually to propose new boundaries but a base from which reapportionment legislation may be written Amendments will become the bills, and Syas cautions that the bills in their initial form should not be taken seriously They won't presume to make any firm proposals

The final score won't be known until Monday, last day for bill introduction by individual senators, but Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff appears on his way to repeating as the champion bill introducer

Of the 699 bill introduced, Carpenter has sponsored 86.

It's somewhat more than he had intended at the outset, when he envisioned trimming nearly 200 from the amazing 224 total he racked up in 1969

Sen Claire Holmquist of Oakland has brought in 58 bills but the statistics is misleading As chairman of the executive board of the Legislative Council, Holmquist simply loaned his name as sponsor of dozens of purely corrective measures recommended by the state's revisor of statutes

Lincoln Sen. Roland Luedtke's name appears as chief sponsor so far of 42 bills

The turnouts generated by mandatory school redistrictmg legislation regularly amaze statehouse observers

A public hearing Tuesday on the latest such proposal was estimated generally to have drawn a gallery of 600 - more than the legislative chamber could accommodate

Most were opponents of compulsory redistrictmg, alerted to the bill by the Nebraska School Improvement Association, representing mostly rural elementary schools, and the Nebraska Association of Schools representing Class 2 and 3 school districts

S H (Zeke) Brauer Jr , NSIA executive secretary, said the outpouring developed despite the fact mailings by the organizations did not reach addressess until the Saturday or Monday preceding the hearing

Brauer says the response evidences a "deep feeling," not primarily about the taxation or pocket book issues involved, but about the education of children

"Any time you meddle in the private lives of families you are going to get a reaction," he suggested

Morrison will defend Poindexter

OMAHA (AP) - Former Nebraska Gov Frank B Morrison, now Omaha public defender, has announced he will defend Edward Poindexter on charges of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder

Poindexter is accused in the Aug 17 bomb slaying of Omaha policeman Larry Minard

Morrison said his deputy, Michael T Levy, also will enter the case because of the seriousness of the charge

Morrison said he may ask for a delay in the trial slated to begin Feb 16 David Rice also is charged in the death of Minard

Appointed public defender three weeks ago, Morrison was governor from 1961-67
